

Working from LADDERS on a CATWALK

Handrails on catwalks or other walkways are designed at a height to provide fall protection for individuals on the walking surface of the catwalk/walkway. If a ladder or any other device is used which places the individual above the walking surface of the catwalk/walkway, and therefore above the fall protection provided by the handrails, an additional form of fall protection is required.